| Having attended the OSPVE resit in January 2015, the extern who attended noted that the same 'critical step' was given different weightings in related Laboratory based OSPVE tasks. This issue was discussed in January with relevant VN staff and again at the current (1st July) Exam Board to highlight the need for consistency in the weighting of critical task steps from station to station. | The OSPVES are to be reviewed during the next academic year to ensure consistency.
Action Required:
To review the OSPVEs to ensure consistency with weighting
Action Deadline:
01-Sep-2016
Action assigned to:
VN team | A working party was formed in December 2015 to review the entire OSPVE bank of tasks and make these more standardised. One of the difficulties in determining the weighting of steps is the variety of experts involved in this process and their contrasting opinions. To enhance reliability, all OSPVE tasks are routinely piloted in formative exams and feedback on station performance is always requested from assessors. Briefing sessions are also held prior to exams to promote consistent assessment of stations. |
The Programme

Please comment, as appropriate, on the following aspects of the programme:

1.1 Course content

The course content is very satisfactory reflecting the full range of subject knowledge and skills that should be covered in these degree(s) at these levels (Year 3 Fd & BSc and Year 4 BSc). Externs reviewed and sampled 3rd year ‘Applied Nursing’ and ‘Professional Practice’, as well as year 4 ‘Research methods’, elective modules and projects (see 2.3) and found the content of all of these to be more than satisfactory. Externs had also been present for OSPVE exams in December and found these to be well organised and of a high standard. Externs also had the opportunity on this occasion to meet with 3 of the Yr 4 BSc students and discuss the course, overall these students expressed great satisfaction with the course structure and content describing it as 'exceptional'.

1.3 Teaching methods

A wide range of teaching methods as appropriate to veterinary nursing education appear to have been employed across the course. Students seem less responsive to online teaching than face to face education and this should be considered moving forwards with the course.

Response from college requested: NO

COURSE DIRECTOR: Miss Rachel Lumbis

Course Director Response:

Thank you for these comments which will be considered in light of any future module and course-related changes.

1.4 Resources (in so far as they affected the assessment)

Students appear to have access to a wide range of teaching resources, including electronic facilities. The BSc students suggested they have had some difficulties in accessing non veterinary resources such as human nursing publications. Student feedback is very well-provided in a written format (eg on exam scripts and assignments) although this can be variable between examiners.

Response from college requested: NO

COURSE DIRECTOR: Miss Rachel Lumbis

Course Director Response:

Thank you for these comments. Students are advised to contact the library and/or the relevant module leader if they experience difficulty accessing resources. Students can also request copies of publications via the Inter-library loan service. The RVC has guidance on recording marks and annotations on written scripts which is issued to examiners with copies of exam scripts and assignments. This is predicted to help reduce variability between examiners and the Exams Office will highlight any marking that is not annotated sufficiently.

2.1 Students’ performance in relation to those at a similar stage on comparable courses in other institutions, where this is known to you

Year 3 and 4 student performance standards meet the external examiners’ expectations of students at these levels.

Response from college requested: NO

2.2 Quality of candidates’ knowledge and skills, with particular reference to those at the top, middle or bottom of the range

There was a good distribution of marks with some students achieving a high standard. The variation in standard at BSc year 4 was perhaps less than in previous years, with most students achieving a 2.1/2.2 degree.

Response from college requested: NO

COURSE DIRECTOR: Miss Rachel Lumbis

Course Director Response:

We have been very pleased by the quality of work produced by students. A number of students in BSc year 4 were juggling work commitments alongside their final year project work. Whilst this is not encouraged, it is acknowledged that final year students are keen to work as a RVN and earn money to support their studies. The resulting level of engagement and interaction with their studies is variable, with the marks awarded often a reflection of this.

2.3 Please provide any additional comments and recommendations regarding the students’ performance

In addition to the comments above, the standard of BSc projects and presentations was also very high.

3.1 Assessment methods (relevance to learning objectives and curriculum)

A wide range of assessment techniques are used (MCQs, SAQs, written assignments and projects with presentations and OSPVEs). Overall the externs believe that the combination of these assessment methods fully satisfies and examines the learning objectives and curricula.

3.4 Standard of marking

Marking is generally of a high standard. Feedback on some written assessments is very detailed and is to be commended. Occasionally however, feedback is variable and more consistency in this respect is required. Double marking and/or sample marking is in place across all modules, but sometimes the quality of this varies between modules. Where there is discrepancy between first marker's and second marker's results discussion needs to be documented so that there is a full audit trail.

Response from college requested: NO

COURSE DIRECTOR: Miss Rachel Lumbis

Course Director Response:
Thank you for your comments. The RVC has guidance on recording marks on written scripts which is issued to examiners with copies of exam scripts and assignments. These clearly state that clear and legible annotation should be included, preferably using specific phrases linked to the model answer and the language in the grading scheme. In the event of any discrepancy, reasoned discussions take place between first and second markers to reach a fair outcome for students. It is acknowledged that a record of this is currently lacking and, in future, will be included in the marking guidance issued to examiners.

Action Required:

Exams Office to modify the marking guidance issued to examiners to reflect the requirement for reasoned discussions to be recorded in the event of a discrepancy between first and second markers.

3.6 Opinion on changes to the assessment procedures from previous years in which you have examined

Some changes have been made, but consistency between examiners in terms of the level of annotation of scripts is still required.

Response from college requested: NO

COURSE DIRECTOR: Miss Rachel Lumbis
Course Director Response:
As mentioned previously, the RVC has clear guidance on the provision of annotation on written scripts which is issued to examiners with copies of exam scripts and assignments. Following on from the introduction of an intermediary step in March 2016, External Examiners are asked to highlight any marking that is not annotated sufficiently. The Exam Board Chair will then this forward with the marker or pass on to the Head of Department.

Please comment, as appropriate, on:

3.1 Assessment methods (relevance to learning objectives and curriculum)

On this occasion only written assessments were reviewed (MCQs, SAQs, written assignments), although practical skills and presentations have been observed in the higher years on other occasions. Overall the externs believe that the combination of these assessment methods fully satisfy and examine the learning objectives and curricula.

Sample marking is in place across all modules, but sometimes the quality of this varies between modules. Where there is discrepancy between first marker’s and second marker’s results discussion needs to be documented so that there is a full audit trail. This issue was raised in June 2016 and still does not seem to have been fully addressed.

Response from college requested: NO

COURSE DIRECTOR: Miss Rachel Lumbis

Course Director Response:

Thank you for your comments. In the event of any discrepancy when double marking, reasoned discussions take place between first and second markers to reach a fair outcome for students. It is acknowledged that a record of this is currently lacking and, in future, will be included in the marking guidance issued to examiners. Both the exam board meetings in June and September have involved the review of work from assessments carried out in the same academic year, hence why you have not seen an improvement between the two boards. The marking guidance will be updated for the academic year 2016/17, with the effect evident in the quality of marking reviewed at the exam boards in 2017.

It is also important to note the difference between blind double marking (used for 4th year BSc assessments) and sample marking (used for years 1 – 3). Work reviewed at the September exam board will have been subject to sampling marking. The role of the sample marker is to review the marks awarded for the question/s and the record of marking that the primary markers have made. In contrast to blind double marking, the sampler is asked to determine only whether they agree or disagree with the mark for each piece of work. It is considered reasonable for a sampler to agree with the first mark if it is adjacent and in the same classification category. If a sufficient proportion (typically 10% or more) of the pieces of work give the sampler concern, or the sampler has other concerns about the consistency or standard of marking (e.g. about the marks from a particular marker, question or marking range) s/he will inform the examinations officer. The examinations officer will alert the chairman of the examinations board and the Course Director. They will devise, and put in place, an action plan appropriate to address the concerns expressed.

Action Required:

Exams Office to modify the marking guidance issued to examiners to reflect the outcome for the reasoned discussions to be recorded in the event of a discrepancy between first and second markers.
