Collaborative Report

MSc in Veterinary Epidemiology, 2022/23

Lead examiner: Dr Jasmeet Kaler

Collaborating examiner(s): Dr Agnes Waret-Szkuta

The Programme

Please comment, as appropriate, on the following aspects of the programme:

1.1 Course content

This joint RVC- LHSTM course provides an innovative course which provides students with excellent grounding in veterinary epidemiology. The depth and breadth of its content gives graduates necessary skills to pursue variety of careers involving this discipline

Exam board meeting: 07-Sep-2023

1.2 Learning objectives, and the extent to which they were met

All modules have clear and relevant learning objectives that meet the purpose of the courses to give sound understanding to students in variety of areas in veterinary epidemiology.

1.3 Teaching methods

A mix of lectures, practicals, tutorials and self-directed learning. Students also have the opportunity to share learning with LSHTM epidemiology students and to benefit from teaching on surveillance and risk analysis from APHA

1.4 Resources (in so far as they affected the assessment)

Course is well resourced and students have appropriate access

1.5 Please provide any additional comments and recommendations regarding the Programme

Course is well recognised nationally and internationally and well established

Student performance

Please comment, as appropriate, on:

2.1 Students' performance in relation to those at a similar stage on comparable courses in other institutions, where this is known to you

Overall, students' performance is ok and matches that of students on comparable courses with which I am familiar in UK and Europe. There is variation in cohorts performance over the years and there are some good and some poor students. This years cohort although performed although slightly below on average compared to other year cohorts

2.2 Quality of candidates' knowledge and skills, with particular reference to those at the top, middle or bottom of the range

Overall mark of the students was very similar to each other this year, with no distinctions. However, within each band the performance of individual students remains appropriate. All students attaining a MSc are competent to appreciate underlying principles and apply methods to data, providing a good foundation

2.3 Please provide any additional comments and recommendations regarding the students' performance

Work presented evidences a high degree of engagement by students with the learning materials.

Assessment Procedures Please comment, as appropriate, on:

3.1	Assessment methods	(relevance to learning	g objectives a	nd curriculum)

Assessment has appropriate mix of methods, including formal written exams, MCQ and assessed presentations, viva.

3.2 Extent to which assessment procedures are rigorous

Assessment methods are rigorous and fair

3.3 Consistency of the level of assessment with the Framework for Higher Education Qualifications (FHEQ)

The level of assessment is entirely consistent with FHEQ

3.4 Standard of marking

Marking is of an extremely high standard. When discrepancy may arise between markers, these are resolved appropriately.

3.5 In your view, are the procedures for assessment and the determination of awards sound and fairly conducted? (e.g. Briefing, Exam administration, marking arrangements, Board of Examiners, participation by External Examiners)

Procedures for assessment are sound and fair. In particular, briefing, exam boards provide excellent help and support to the external examiners. Some issues were encountered this year with access to RVC Learn.

3.6 Opinion on changes to the assessment procedures from previous years in which you have examined

Assessment is rigorous throughout

3.7 Please provide any additional comments and recommendations regarding the procedures
