

The Teaching Hospital Difference

Veterinary nursing team

Our team of more than 100 registered veterinary nurses are key members of the multidisciplinary team.

Many have enhanced professional qualifications in the specialised areas of the hospital they work in, ensuring delivery of the highest standards of patient care and veterinary training.

Veterinary nursing team

Final year veterinary students have completed all their lectures and gain vital experience by working alongside and being closely supervised by our experienced vets and specialist vets.

All our students have undergone rigorous training before they join us in the hospital including animal handling, communication skills and have passed yearly exams to test their anatomical and medical knowledge.

Final year veterinary
students

Specialist veterinary team

The RVC small animal referral hospital is a multidisciplinary service supported around the clock 365 days a year by the largest team of veterinary specialists in Europe allowing each patient to be given the care it needs.

A specialist vet has undergone rigorous advanced training and passed specialist examinations in their chosen field. Many of our specialist vets are international experts in their field, producing advances which are shaping the future of veterinary medicine.

Specialist veterinary surgeons

First class care for your pet

First class veterinary training

Residents & Interns

Residents

Experienced vets, selected via a highly competitive process for their academic ability, passion, drive and enthusiasm to undergo further advanced training to become the specialist vets of the future.

Interns

Experienced vets, selected via a highly competitive process for their academic ability, passion, drive and enthusiasm to undergo further training in all areas of small animal veterinary practice.