

Veterinary Education

A 5 day residential course at the RVC, Hertfordshire
6th - 10th February 2017

'Sefton' by Camilla Le May and photograph by Richard Addison.

Are you a professional working in veterinary education or workplace training?

This course is designed to foster your development as an educator and, amongst others, is aimed at:

Practising Vets

Veterinary Nurses

Lecturers

Assistant Lecturers

Nursing Clinical Coaches

Learning Technologists

Teaching Assistants

Post-Doctoral Researchers

Those with teaching responsibilities

Anyone planning a career in academia

BOOK YOUR PLACE NOW: www.rvc.ac.uk/PPVE1

- Delivered by experts from the Royal Veterinary College at the Hertfordshire campus
- Cost effective and time-efficient
- Gain a professional qualification – Associate Fellow of the Higher Education Academy (AFHEA)

RVC
Royal
Veterinary
College
University of London

Veterinary Education

A 5 day residential course at the RVC, Hertfordshire
6th - 10th February 2017

“The teacher who is indeed wise does not bid you to enter the house of his wisdom but rather leads you to the threshold of your mind.”

Kahlil Gibran (1883–1931)

WHAT WILL I LEARN?

During the course you will use work-based tasks, explore relevant literature and reflect critically on key aspects of effective veterinary education, as well as your own educational practice.

The themes covered are:

- Student Learning
- Teaching Methods
- Developing Learning Materials
- Developing Skills
- Assessing Student Learning

WHERE IS IT?

The course will be delivered at the RVC's Hawkshead campus in Hertfordshire, by a team of veterinary education experts based at the acclaimed LIVE Centre (Lifelong and Independent Veterinary Education).

WHY RESIDENTIAL?

You will have the opportunity to meet, share your experiences and learn alongside your peers without distraction. Comfortable, modern accommodation is provided in an attractive, rural location allowing you to totally immerse yourself in your studies in a time-efficient and focused manner.

HOW MUCH WILL IT COST?

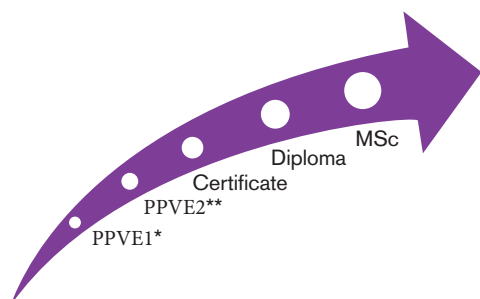

Course only* £1,090
Course plus accommodation £1,520

* Lunch and refreshments included.

 Accommodation is provided in our conference suite at the Hawkshead campus, Hertfordshire from Sunday evening departing Friday afternoon. Breakfast, lunch, refreshments and evening meals are included.

WHAT WILL I ACHIEVE?

Following attendance at the residential course and the successful completion of 3 subsequent assignments plus a teaching observation practical, you will become an Associate Fellow of the Higher Education Academy.

This course is the first step on the pathway to the MSc in Veterinary Education.

* Associate Fellow of the Higher Education Academy

 Fellow of the Higher Education Academy

Contact us now to book your place:

Web: www.rvc.ac.uk/PPVE1

Email: mscvetedu@rvc.ac.uk

Phone: +44 (0)1707 666438

Advancing science. Advancing careers

The college has charitable status

RVC Royal
Veterinary
College
University of London